An International e-FDP on "Technological Trends for Sustainability" aims to equip educators with knowledge, skills, and resources to effectively integrate sustainability principles into their teaching, research, and significantly prepare next generations for a sustainable future. We deliberated on almost 90% of United Nations Sustainability Development Goals. Following topics were covered-

Day 1 Session 1: Ambiguous set theory and Sustainability during COVID-19: Application in its Analysis
Day 1 Session 2: Carbon Credits in Agriculture for Achieving the Sustainable Development Goals
Day 2 Session 3: Climate change and water resource paradigm
Day 2 Session 4: AI and Deep Learning for Environmental Sustainability
Day 3 Session 5: Harnessing AI for Sustainable Early Disease Detection and Prevention
Day 3 Session 6: Application of Design Thinking for Sustainable Innovation Techniques toward Quality Education
Day 4 Session 7: Empowering Tomorrow: Integrating Sustainability into Quality Education
Day 4 Session 8: Sustainable Health: Nurturing Communities for Well-being and Resilience
Day 5 Session 9: Building Sustainable Healthcare Workforces: Empowering Professionals through AI-powered Training and Upskilling
Day 5 Session 10: Capacity Building in the field of Sustainable Space Science technique's through ISRO Outreach Quality Education Programmes
Day 6 Session 11: Water Resource Management for Human Sustenance: Best Practices and Lessons Learned
Day 6 Session 12: Tracing the Past to Sustain the Future: Insights from Paleoclimate Studies in India.

Day 7 Session 13: Green Communications for Sustainable Smart Cities: The Role of 5G and Beyond Wireless Networks
Day 7 Session 14: Sustainable Advancements in Agriculture

About the Institute

Symbiosis Institute of Computer Studies and Research (SICSR), now in its 38th year, a constituent institute of Symbiosis International (Deemed University), is one of India's pioneer institutes to provide computer education of the highest standard. SICSR is ranked first amongst the top BCA colleges of India according to OPEN MAGAZINE annual survey report 2022. SICSR seeks to impart IT knowledge through interactive and adaptable teaching methods. We encompass blended learning to allow collaboration between educators and learners. SICSR is more than just an institute, it is a model for technology and education to create an engaging and distinctively symbiotic educational experience. Our goal is to foster worldwide understanding with quality education to produce efficient and effective leaders for the society by ethical and value-based learning. SICSR graduates are hired by prominent organizations such as Amazon, IBM, Infosys, Deloitte, Cognizant, WIPRO, Apple, Microsoft, Google, Facebook, Barclays, Capgemini, Accenture, Nvidia, Colgate, Persistent, Intel, TCS and Oracle. SICSR offers PG programmes MBA (IT), MBA(DT), MSC(CA) and UG programmes BCA, BBA(IT).
